

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

The Environmental policy describes the company's environmental objectives. The company management takes over the responsibility for fulfilling the obligations stated in the environmental policy. Fulfilling this policy is a key means of achieving the long-term and short-term objectives of:

- setting up processes with respect to the environment,
- the introduction of practices and techniques that promote environmentally friendly approach,
- the use of technologies that comply with environmental requirements,
- the use and handling with appropriate materials in such a way that they do not adversely affect the environment,
- considering individual environmental aspects when delivering products and services,
- the elimination, reduction or control of the generation or release of any type of pollution or waste so as to reduce negative environmental impacts.

The environmental policy is available and maintained as documented information and is available electronically on the intranet web page and on the internet web page.
